Because Libraries Transform

Like in any academic libraries, BUiD Library plays a central role in research and education to support the University mission in contributing to a world-class research.

Over the years, BUiD Library has significantly improved its resources and services. From a single database in 2009 to 23 databases today. From on-campus access to off-campus access. From one print book to a multi-user electronic book. From a card catalog to online catalog and many more significant changes. This reminds us that the library is an indispensable resource that transforms people's lives and the community itself.

Because there are hundreds of reasons why libraries transform, we want to showcase the Library's elevating role in this digital age through our Library's month theme 'Libraries Transform" – an international campaign in promoting libraries.
Welcome Note

A warm welcome to all new and continuing students and faculty. Our last issue highlighted the changes we made to improve our services and the different tools available to assist our users in finding information resources. This year, as we continue to transform our library from an integrated library system to a new library services platform, we are committed to providing you the value, impact and services of your library. Because libraries want to distinguish a web search to research, there are more changes are on its way. We are excited for these changes because libraries transform!

All the best!

Library Services — a year of changes

There are still several ways we want to improve to offer you a different library experience.

1. One library account details to access resources and our services
2. Integrated online catalog and electronic resources
3. Improved quality of search facets with online access links
4. Clientless and the cloud system
5. Electronic reserves list
6. Interlibrary loan service
7. A powerful discovery tool that allows to search other libraries worldwide
8. Self-management password link
9. Database groupings for single search
10. A-Z journal list

As BUiD library transforms, library staff are working very hard to fulfill these

BUiD Library needs a few students to participate in a Focus Group to gather feedback on our Library services. The focus group will meet one time for about two hours to discuss different issues and concerns regardless of your own experience in the Library. Kindly confirm your participation by sending an email to library@buid.ac.ae

As a thank you, all focus group attendees will receive lunch and gift certificate.
